Fashion Show

FASHIONATIONSTATION, the Maryland Institute Department of Fashion Design's annual fashion show, will be held at 2.30 o'clock today and again at 8 o'clock tonight, and at 8.30 P.M. tomorrow.

Students and professional models will display more than 70 men's and women's fashions, designed and constructed by Institute fashion design students. These original designs have been selected for the show by twenty individuals from the fashion world, including fashion editors and executive buyers from specialty shops, department stores and national buying offices.

Awards Due

At the Saturday evening show, three students will receive awards for their outstanding work. John Karl, Institute senior, will be awarded the Claire McCardell Silver Thimble Award, presented each year to the fashion department's outstanding student.

J. Albert Gordon, the Institute's fashion consultant from Philadelphia's Moore College of Art, will present Camille Piekarski with the selection jury's Gold Thimble Award. Martin Schwartz, a New York designer, will present the critics' Gold Thimble Award to Stephen Sanford.

All Occasions

The shows will present unusual fashions for all occasions, including formal and wedding gowns, at-home wear, beach costumes and casual dresses. Unusual fabrics, such as hand-screened prints from Finland, and decorative materials, including pearl and crystal beads, have gone into the clothes.

Experimental fashions have been constructed from materials not usually used in fashion design, including popcorn and Christmas bulbs.

The clothes in the shows have been designed and constructed by the following Institute students: Bonnie Alexander, Guhlan Arikoglu, Susan Baker, Barri Barr, Loris Birbari, Gayle Blum, Charla-na Edgell, Bronwyn Jones, John Karl, Cheryl Kitz, Ellen Kozak.

Also, Anne Marie Muller, Jesus Peterson, Camille Piekarski, Stefni Pullen, Marge Rail, Lusius Richardson, Jay Rohrbaugh, Martha Russo, Stephen Sanford, Marion Southcott, Jill Sutton, Lillie Switzenbaum and Betty Windfelder.
